

Safeguarding Training

Volunteering with the Department for Education Children and Young People

The training is compulsory and is designed to help us all understand how to better safeguard kids in Tasmania.

If you are a DECYP employee, volunteer or external service provider for the department, you must complete this training.

Anyone working with children and young people are still required to hold a valid Registration to Work with Vulnerable People card unless they fall under any of the relevant exceptions.

A certificate of completion will automatically be generated at the end of the training video. This can be saved to prove the training has been completed.
